

Post-Cafcass Involvement Services and Organisations

Cafcass is only able to undertake work on a case if the court directs us to do so. No further work has been ordered of us in your case, and because of this our involvement in your case has now concluded. We realise that for many people it can often be difficult at this stage to know where to turn if you feel you need more help, advice, or support. Therefore we have included below a list of services that you may find useful, should you need them in the future.
